

A Card to the Musical Public.—By the arrival of the packet ship Dovershire, from London, we learn the total loss and abandonment at sea of the Hamburg steamer Prinzessin. The vessel was laden with a large number of our stock of very considerable amount. We had intended to open our establishment here, upon the arrival of this vessel; but, as we have been unable to get it to open, we are satisfied would have answered the expectations and wishes of our friends and the musical public. We trust, however, that the arrival of the Prinzessin will meet the many calls for foreign music at present. It is great, but to repeat both with the utmost despatch, the number of vessels which daily enter and leave this port, the steamer Atlantic, and our stock in Hamburg is very extensive and complete; he is back home in six or seven weeks, and we trust, will bring with him a large number brought to this country. Notwithstanding this unfortunate occurrence, we offer among the stock on hand, a select assortment of foreign music, and a large number of books in vogue, a great part of them our own and many of the best American publications. Professors of music and the public in general are requested to call at our establishment, or our agents, CHURCHILL & CO., 257 Broadway.

Opposite the Park, European Music Depot.

Mr. William B. Bradbury's Choral Singing Class.—Mr. B. proposes to organize a class on a large scale to meet once a week at the Tabernacle, the object of which is the diffusion of a more general knowledge and practice of vocal music. The class will consist of about twenty-five members, and we are satisfied would have answered the expectations and wishes of our friends and the musical public. We trust, however, that the arrival of the Prinzessin will meet the many calls for foreign music at present. the sum, is $19,866 21. Same time last year, $17,748 23. Excess in favor of $150, $119 98. The number of boats that passed the outlet lock at Wells' Falls during the time is 3,756.

The improvements on that part of the Union canal which extends from the coal region, at Pine Grove, to Portsmouth, on the Susquehanna river, have been put under contract. Besides enlarging the canal, a large reservoir has been constructed near Pine Grove, and the iron for laying a new track on their road to the mines has been purchased by the company. The work, it is expected, will be finished early next summer when the largest canal boats of the State will be able to run to Pine Grove.

The following table shows the exports by canal from Buffalo, of some of the leading articles during the month of November, as compared with last year:—
